ALBERTA COAL IN DEMAND

Reports from Ontario are to the effect that the trial shipments of Alberta coal being made to that province under the special rate of $7 a ton granted by the C. N. R., are in great demand in many centres, and there is a movement to appeal to the Federal Government to take up the matter of getting an extension of time on the special rate. Howard Stutchbury, Trade Commissioner of Alberta, is now in Ontario supervising the distribution of the special shipment of 6,000 tons.

—NOTICE—

Commencing September 3rd, I will open up a Boarding House in the Jackson Block. First class rooms and meals prepared by all white help. A trial will convince you of our excellence.

Mrs. J. Metzger.

Harvesting will be general in this district next week.

20,000 MENNONITES FROM RUSSIA COMING TO CANADA NEXT YEAR

LOCATING IN WEST

WATERLOO, Aug. 28.—Twenty thousand more Mennonites will be brought over from Russia next year, and located in western Canada, the United States, Mexico and South America, declared Rev. Aaron Loucks, of Scottsdale, Pa., chairman of the Mennonite relief committee, at the second convention of the fundamen- tal conference of the First Mennonite church of America here Monday.

Mr. Loucks told the convention, at which Mennonites from many parts of North and South America were gathered, that more than one million dollars had been raised by the church during the past year and sent to aid Mennonites in Russia. This sum was in addition to large sums sent for relief work in other parts of the world. He said that $300,000 had been raised this year with which 2,500 Mennonites had been brought to Canada and placed on the land in the west. The wives and children of these would be maintained in Russia this year by the church in America, he said, to give the newly arrived time to save money to bring over their families.

FREIGHT RATES

The appeal of Alberta and British Columbia, in connection with the differential in freight rates in the mountain territory, which was taken against the decision of the Railway Commission last year, in which only 50 per cent of the differential was removed, was heard recently by the Dominion cabinet.

The appeal was argued for the Provinces of British Columbia and Alberta by G. G. McGeer, K. C., of Vancouver, supported by Frank Ford, K. C. of Edmonton, and A. Chas. Freight Traffic Supervisor for the Alberta Government. An attentive hearing was given the appeal which was very ably presented by counsel. In addition to the request for the removal of all of the mountain differential, Alberta supplemented the appeal by a request that the transcontinental rates to and from Eastern Canada and the United States be not higher than those applying from British Columbia to and from the same points, but the defense argued that this question had not been dealt with by the Railway Commission, and therefore could not properly be before the Dominion cabinet. The rates in question are lower to the Coast than to Alberta points, defended by the railway companies as being compelled by water competition through the Panama Canal and American railway competition.

A GOOD DANCE

A very enjoyable dance was held last Saturday night in the Opera House. Fully fifty couples were present, many of them having met over from Olds and Innisfail as well as the number from our own district. The Lucky Number dance created some amusement and excitement. Jean Edwards and her partner, Mr. Keith MacLean, of Innisfail were the unlucky couple first called off the floor and for consolation they ate watermelon while the crowd danced and watched them. Miss Lucy Wilson and Mr. John Deadrick won the prize for best couple on the floor. Prizes were a box of candy for the lady and a Gillette safety razor for the gentleman. The next of these dances will be held Monday night after the show. The lucky dances will be held again and prizes will consist of Theatre Tickets. Frank McDonald's orchestra will again keep 'em stepping.

The Art of Spending

Getting the most for your money and conquering the tendency to spend for trifles is possible only through practice and self discipline.

When possible avoid the habit of buying on credit. A good rule is "Pay as you go." Think twice and challenge the necessity of every expenditure.

Why Be Pessimistic?

It is not wise to be unmitigably optimistic and rely on prospective profits and adventures which may not materialize. But even if the future is dark, the community, or the nation from the habit of constantly looking at the dark side of things, which seems to have become ingrained into the nature of some Canadians? To hear some of these crackling birds of ill omen, one would be led to believe that Canada had no future but one of bankruptcy, that line ruin stared us all in the face, and that, individually and collectively, we were headed for disaster.

The man or woman with a pessimistic grudge is about the most disagreeable and least to be envied person in the world. Never happy or contented themselves, their mission in life seems to be to bring discontent and unhappiness to others. And the remarkable fact is that these chronic preachers of blue rain can point to nothing individually wrong in Canada's economic condition upon which to build a foundation for their complaints.

On the other hand, facts and figures can be adduced in a positively staggering array to prove that conditions in Canada are steadily improving, that connected with other countries this Dominion is more than holding its own, and that while many countries are still struggling in the aftermath of the Great War, Canada is not only rapidly overtaking her old pre-war prosperity, but is on the high road to the attainment of a position of power and strength unequalled in the past.

Western Canada had, on the whole, a fair crop in 1922. The, it was not in some respects a highly profitable crop, but the proceeds nevertheless did effect a very substantial reduction in the total of the farmer's liabilities. It paid many a farmer's long standing account with merchants, who in turn paid wholesaler and manufacturer, and these reduced their bank indebtedness. Millions of dollars were paid on farm loans and mortgages, in part paid and repaid. All this money was not lost? It has passed through various channels, and has gradually passed on again through the banks into circulation and in the promotion of productive enterprises of various kinds.

The effect is seen in Canada's trade returns. This Dominion exported goods to other parts of the Empire to a value of $152,761,481 during the year ended June 30 last, as compared with $118,921,120 during the preceding twelve months, an increase of over one hundred million dollars. Outside the Empire our trade is on the increase with almost all foreign countries.

In wheat alone Canada exported over eighty million more bushels in the year ended June 30 last than in the preceding year, and at the same time our export of flour continuously increased, going into more than fifty different countries.

In the year ended June 30, 1922, Canada exported 23,585,000 pounds of butter, as compared with only 9,095,772 pounds the previous year. Cheese exports remained about the same, but milk and cream largely increased.

Canada exported 59,162 Canadian built passenger automobiles during the fiscal year just closed, as compared with less than 20,000 in the preceding year, while freight automobiles numbered 5,175 as against 1,871. Automobile parts, bicycles, etc., showed the large increase.

The healthy development of Canada's export trade, of which the above are but simple instances, is the true sign of this country's economic progress. It brings money into the country, and it is through the upbuilding of our export trade that we are going to be able to pay the interest on and ultimately pay off the war debt of Canada, while at the same time providing for the better development of our natural resources.

And this season Canada has every prospect of harvesting the largest crops in its history. No, despite little setbacks here and there, it is nevertheless assured a certainty at the time of writing this article that a banner crop will be harvested, which means the production of millions of new wealth, and the wherewithal to pay off our liabilities and add economically to our export trade, thus giving an impetus to all lines of productive activity throughout the Dominion.

What ground therefore is there for all this blue rain talk? What reason is there for discouragement? Such an attitude is dishonest, and being dishonest is harmful to the individual who indulges in it, and harmful to the country as a whole.

Formation of an active grain exchange for Vancouver wheat will result from the handling of the 1922 crop through this port is now under way. The charter seats will be disposed to members of the Vancouver Grain Exchange and Vancouver Mercantile Exchange.

Mother and Her Baby Are Relieved of Eczema

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Salt Burn, Sask., writes: "Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary in her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me—before using it I had spent a great deal more than I had in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have also used Dr. Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food, having restored my health after suffering from severe nerve trouble when a girl."

Vancouver As Grain Port

With Increased Facilities, Will Soon Be in Position to Handle Vast Amount of Grain

Vancouver will have shipped about 19,000,000 bushels of grain when the crop year 1922-23 draws to a close this summer, according to statistics issued by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange. During the previous crop year about 6,750,000 bushels of grain had been shipped. Up to the end of June, 18,376,587 bushels of the 1922 grain crop had passed through Vancouver.

Lack of ships was the only thing that could prevent Vancouver from becoming a greater grain port. Hon. J. H. King, Federal Minister of Public Works, declared in 1911, the increase in Government handling facilities and the building of private elevators, the port would, he said, be in a position to handle a vast amount of grain.

A Wonderful Instrument

Geophone Detects Sound Long Distances Through Rock and Earth

The geophone, invented during the war by the French to detect under ground mining by the Germans, has been developed for peace-time use by American research agencies. The instrument is among the self-recording type, purely mechanical in operation, and makes it possible to hear long distances through rock and earth. Under suitable conditions sledge pounding can be detected over 2,000 feet through solid rock in a wooden metal mine, 2,000 or more feet through coal, and about 200 through clay.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The common complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is bedridden before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is so quick and so effective as Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels, are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

Even Coughs Prevent Free of Wind

Giving his opinion regarding the Arctic as a flying terrain, Lieutenant Dietrichsen is quoted as follows by the Aftonpost:

"One who has risen above the mountains, the mists vanish and weather conditions become extraordinary, with even and free of wind pockets. The farther north one proceeds the better becomes the possibilities of good and safe landing places among the vast flat tracts of ice and snow-fields."

The Lieutenant also expressed his firm conviction that the Polar flight was only a matter of time.

Dairying Makes Headway

The dairy industry continues to make headway in the province of Alberta, 15 more creameries being in operation this year than in 1921. It is estimated the total creamery butter production will be about 18,000,000 pounds, 2,000,000 pounds more than last year. There is a considerable increase in the average of fodder crops, particularly in oats.

CHAPTER XX

The Storm Bursts

The vigilantes had entered Crawling Water at about ten o'clock, when the saloons and gambling joints were in full swing. Rifled shots and bullets from the players, drinkers, and hangers-on floated into the street with noise and then the both of a six-shooter telling of drunken sport or bravado. Few people were asked; good and evil had retired to their homes, and the other half was hounding itself.

So it was, at first, that no noticed the tramp of horsemen which swam in at one end of the town to ride slowly and silently down the main street. Each of the hundred men in the troop carried a rifle balanced across his saddle pommel; each was dressed in the garb of the range-elder, and the faces of each, glimpsed by the light from some window or doorway, was a stern stern. The silent was easily calculated to make prey clutch like an iron-clad hand at the hearts of those with guilty consciences; a spectacle which belied such respectable men as saw it to arm themselves and fall in behind the advancing line. These knew without being told what this needless band of stern-eyed riders portended, and even

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brantford, Ontario:—"I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, pain in the nape of my neck, and when I stopped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back. I did not sleep well and was nervous at the least noise. I kept house, but I was such a wreck that I could not sweep the floor nor wash the dishes without lying down afterwards. A friend living near me told me what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for her so I began to take it. With the first bottle I felt brighter and got so I could wash dishes and sweep without having to lie down. Later I became regular again in my monthly terms. I have taken ten bottles all told and am now all better. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be beaten for putting health and vim into a woman."—Mrs. J. A. MacPherson, Brantford, Ont.

"Hark him! Hark the elms brake up by the water. The cry was taken up by the saloons."

Hastily turning the gambler beneath a convenient tree, they proceeded to adjust a nose about the neck. In another instant Monte Joe's head would have departed to the Great Beyond but for a series of interruptions. Wade created the first of these by leaving his big, black horse through the throng.

"Lurch, now!" he roared. "You must stop this! This man—out of them—must have a fair trial!"

"That he should!" shouted a boisterous rancher. "We've had enough law in this valley. Now we're after justice!"

Choosing him the crowd roared approval of the sentiment, for even the out-riding seemed suddenly to have gone mad with blood-lust. Wade's face flushed with anger, was about to reply to them when Santry forced him away to the fence. Ever since Wade had released the old from jail, he had been impressed with the thought that, no matter what his own views, gratitude demanded that he should instantly back up his employer.

"Justice!" snarled the old man, pushing his way into the circle that had formed around Wade. He brandished a pistol in each hand. "Who's talking of justice? Ain't me! Ain't Wade! I've handed more dirt by the foot of the creek than all the rest of you combined. Joe's a pious varmint, but he's got to get something for his ride—a square deal. You hear me? Any man that thinks different can set the print with me!"

He glared at the mob, his sparse, grizzled mustache seeming actually to bristle. In the dim light of a lantern he held over him the crowd was really the. A flash on his forehead had streaked one side of his face with blood, while his eyes, beneath their shaggy thatel of brows, appeared to blaze like live coals. Instantly, these men began to back a pace on only for a moment, for such a mob was not to be daunted by threats. A low murmur of discontent was rapidly swelling into a growl of anger, when Sheriff Thomas appeared.

"Gentlemen, ease up!" he cried, "I'll give you a convenient box."

"The law must be respected, and as it respects me in this community,"

"That's right," said the mob, "we must be respected, and as it respects me in this community,"

Search For Lost Continent

Francis J. Ford, Famous Explorer and Noted Writer, Sails on Interesting Expedition

Traces of a lost continent similar to the fabled "Continent of Atlantis," believed by scientists to have existed thousands of years ago where now is the Atlantic Ocean, will be investigated and studied in the Pacific Ocean by Francis J. Ford, famous explorer and noted writer.

Travelers, masters of coasting vessels and adventures in the South Seas have brought back to the outposts of civilization wonderful accounts of this lost continent that uphold the beliefs of scientists.

They tell of the ruins of an ancient metropolis, once reaching with all the culture, arts and industries of a long forgotten race, now half submerged in the ocean. Rising out of the sea are the tops of gigantic and strange buildings. Coral has attached itself to the ruins, forming a phantasmic wall with a pitted surface.

The structures are said to be Egyptian in design and pyramids have been discovered in the liquid water below the chance atoll, basking in the tropical sunlight and washed by a shimmering sea.

Mr. Ford sailed from San Francisco on the S.S. Ventura of the Oceanic Line, on the South Sea Islands. He will visit Honolulu, Samoa, Fiji, Tonga, New Hebrides, Solomon Islands, New Guinea, Borneo and Java.

And Mr. Ford is going in the wild alone to hunt wild tribes of natives and untraveled spots, heretofore not visited, accompanied only by a servant, a few carrier boys and a guard of soldiers.

He will charter a "tramp" steamer to explore the thousands of unknown and uncharted islands in the South Pacific.

British naval commanders will attend him protection.

Mr. Ford will record his explorations and adventures with a motion picture camera.

WHEN YOUR THROAT IS SORE

If it is only a slight cold now—most of the time in the throat.

But little colds soon grow large and dangerous. Often they become chronic, develop catarrh and end in consumption.

Catarrh is the remedy. It is a powerful disinfectant and soothes out of the throat. Relieves the cough, cuts out the phlegm, makes breathing easy, kills any germs lodged in the mucous lining of the throat or lungs.

The rising CATARRHOZE INHALER now and again use to keep the passages free from germs, and thereby prevent coughs and colds, get the better of it. It is a month's small size, 20¢ sold by druggists. Refuse a substitute for Catarrhoze. By mail from The Catarrhoze Co., Montreal.

Let us, bean leaves and onions contain "glucosin," a substance similar to the recently discovered "insulin," which may prove of even more value as a cure for diabetes.

Professor William said that Dr. J. B. Collip, of the University of Alberta, one of the group first to make "insulin," discovered "glucosin" after experiments with beans, oysters, yeast and mushrooms.

Successful tests with the new substance have been made upon dogs and rabbits. It was stated: "No clinical tests have yet been made on human beings, but Dr. Collip was quoted as having said:

"There is little doubt that this substance will be useful in the treatment of diabetes in the human subject."

The same has obtained new strength in measure experiments because of the high costs of insulin. Professor William said. Glucosin, he added, can be extracted at a small cost.

Alberta Lake Fisheries

A recent survey shows that the lake fisheries of Alberta are worth $100,000 annually to the province. Forty-four thousand hundredweight of fish were marketed last year, the average proportion of the catch being whitefish.

When it comes to harvesting the crop, a young man is sorry that he is owed so many wild cats.

Experiments Being Made to Improve Texture of Glass Products

It is said that a certain quality the individual who shall invent a flexible, unbreakable glass. "Armored glass," succeeded because it contains a netting of galvanized wire and is not easily broken by small pieces. It is too heavy and too nearly opaque for most uses. There is a glass of comparatively recent invention called "ultrathin." Although it is neither flexible nor unbreakable, it has certain advantages over other kinds. It is composed of two panes of glass with a thin sheet of transparent celluloid pressed between them and made to adhere by hydraulic pressure. It is said that a blow hard enough to shatter ordinary glass and to drive the pieces for some distance merely cracks the ultrathin glass.

Paper Mills For B.C.

Speaking before the Liberal Association at Vancouver, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Provincial Minister of Lands, announced that six separate projects of paper mills were negotiating for the establishment of pulp and paper mills with the Provincial Government. He stated that he expected two or three contracts would be under way in a short time.

DELAY IN OPENING OF SHOOTING SEASON WILL ALLOW BIRDS TO MATURE

Delay in the opening of the duck and bird shooting season this year to September 15, although it has called forth criticism from some sources, but cause it delays shooting 15 days, will be beneficial to hunters throughout the province.

Action of the Alberta legislature this year in setting back the date will allow the birds more time to mature and when the season opens what birds nimrod's bag will be good once, while if the season opened on September 1, as it has in past years, the birds would not be matured, hunters, of course, will lose the Labor Day holiday but this will be the only drawback the new law will cause.

Criminal, Fools and Canadian Forests

A beautiful stand in the Niagara district, near which a Canadian Pacific Burntwood Camp has been erected. Imagine the result if this camp fire should be neglected.
Below—Canadian Pacific tank car and on the road.
Left—Showing the pumps and how they throw a stream back over a 50 foot tower.

Look at the boards at your feet, the walls which shield you from the elements, the roof over your head, the chair in which you sit, and your furniture. All are products of the Canadian forests, and practically everything you come into contact with in the day depends on the forest for one or more of its component parts. Then take the foods you eat, the paper you read by the wood fire at night, the food is produced by Canadian farmers who depend on the forest for a regular supply of moisture, the paper is composed largely of wood pulp. It is almost beyond comprehension—the amount of lumber used by Canadian industries each day, and the amount used in construction and in the development of the country each year. Canada's prosperity, her whole future, is one with that of her forests.

Ontario alone gives employment to 17,000 men in the lumber, pulp and paper mills in the same province employ 8,000 men, and the amount of capital invested in the two industries amounts to over $150,000,000.
Yet, for every tree that is felled, for every log that helps to keep the wheels of industry moving, for every board that is used in construction, twelve are destroyed in the forest by fire. What a waste! Forest fires cost some twelve times the amount of the lumber which is the life of Canadian industries, and that each year fire is depleting the forests which should hold back the rain fall so as to ensure throughout the year the moisture which is the life of the farm. Five hundred thousand acres of forest are burned over in Ontario each year, and the government of this province is burdened with a forest fire protection organization which costs $3,000 a day.

Way is the country put to such a loss?
Because there are no means of aggregating the criminal fools and careless. Take the fire which in October last took forty-four lives, rendered thousands homeless, and destroyed property valued at eight million dollars in the vicinity of Hailybury, the ter-

Government Control of Liquors Means Increased Revenue

In the control of all liquors by the Government of Quebec, two points stand out prominently:

1. That under government control there is less drunkenness than when licenses and Scott Act were in force.

2. There has been a large increase in the Provincial Revenues that has enabled the Government of Quebec to prevent the upward trend of taxes, which have become so burdensome in Alberta.

Law and order have been maintained because 90 per cent. of the people are behind its enforcement. An attorney general of Alberta, from his place on the floor of the Legislative Assembly, stated that he believed 65 per cent. of the people of Alberta were deliberately violating the terms of the Alberta Liquor Act.

If you prefer sane laws, well enforced, to the undesirable conditions now prevailing in Alberta.

Mr. Cecil Story, of Claremont, Ontario, is visiting his cousin, Mrs. Noah Eckel.

Mr. Geo. Metz is filling his silo with sunflowers this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucan, of Drumheller, are visiting at Tom Finlay's.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Eckel and son Robert, Mr. Herman Ohlsen, Sam Elliott and Miss Irene Dell spent Sunday at Carbon, Drumheller and Morrin. They report the crops excellent all along the way.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. Con. Liesemer's on Wednesday, Aug. 29th.

RUGBY C. C. C.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by the Rugby C. C. C. last Saturday evening, about twenty members being present. The first item was a good game of tennis, Melville White and Percy Hosgood defeating Eric Sworn and Harvey Hoed, 6 to 4.

Some more members then arrived and a good game of basketball was indulged in but had light made the game close after about twenty minutes play.

The rest of the evening was spent in a little business meeting was first held, and Melville White and Aylmer Haynes were elected in-door sports committee men. Many games were played throughout the evening and one which caused great laughter was "Consequences". Some very amusing papers were read. Charades were also played but neither side was able to guess their opponents word.

The members then formed a circle and told tales, jokes and riddles for an hour or so, then Chris having got the whole bunch of them on a string the Club broke up at about 11 p. m.

Next Saturday evening is to be the last meeting till after harvest so all try and come out and have a good evening. Those who play tennis are asked to try and be down between 5:30 and 6 p. m. so they can have a game before sun down. Indoor sports will be carried on throughout the evening.

Quite a number of the members took in the dance at Clarence Rinehart's barn last Wednesday night and all report a very enjoyable evening.

We hear Roy had quite an exciting trip home in the early hours of Thursday morning. We hope he didn't catch cold.

We understand quite a few of the members are interested in the game of Chess. We are looking forward to having a tournament this winter.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ace Elder were over to spend the evening with Mrs. Oliver. Ace played Chris and Billy chess and proved too good for both of them. They both hope to give him a harder run in their next meeting.

BANK OF HAMILTON TAKEN OVER BY CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

Bank of Hamilton Solvent But Has Had Certain Losses Which Cause
Some Anxiety

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, announced last evening that at the request of the directors of the two banks concerned and in conformity with the provisions of the Bank Act he has given his consent to the making of an agreement for the sale of the assets of the Bank of Hamilton to the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Mr. Fielding says:—This is the first official step in the matter. The agreement, after all details have been settled between the two banks to be effective, must have the approval of the governor in council.

Bank mergers are not popular with the public, and the Minister of Finance is naturally disinclined to give his consent to such unless there are urgent reasons for the merger.

I discussed this question, said Mr. Fielding, in the house of commons on the recent revision of the Bank act. Referring to the contention sometimes advanced that such mergers are against the public interest, I said, I am not able to concur in that view. I think there have been cases in the past where a bank in a fairly good position was on the down grade and being taken over by another bank, it was saved; every good interest was prompted by the merger. There may be a similar case in the future. I am quite prepared to admit there may be need in the future of some mergers. I think as a rule they should be discouraged, but circumstances may arise which may render a merger necessary and proper. It has been suggested that a merger only be made by a special act of parliament. I could not approve of that because the circumstances under which a merger may be deemed necessary may be very urgent and to wait until parliament convenes might be to destroy the possibility of the merger going through and lead to serious trouble. I am not anxious to promote mergers unnecessarily, but I cannot conceive of any arrangement which would be better than that which we already have made.

Amalgamation of More Canadian Banks Predicted

Amalgamation of more Canadian Banks was predicted by Sir John Aird, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, which has absorbed the Bank of Hamilton. According to the Toronto Telegram, the merger of the two banks mentioned is on a share and share basis so far as the Bank of Hamilton shareholders are concerned. Yesterday the Bank of Hamilton stock was quoted at $150, while Bank of Commerce shares have been held lately at $190.

The joint directors of the two banks are meeting this afternoon. It is stated that further announcement will be made at the conclusion of the meeting.
